

Stainless-steel • Can't be eaten • Can't be beaten

Testimonial from Matthew Eickman
president of Abra Kadabra Environmental Services
(www.abrakadabraenvironmental.com)

“Great and good-looking products.”

Abra Kadabra is a second generation family owned and operated environmental service company from Minnesota. We are environmentally conscious and use child and pet friendly products, so it means a lot to us that the RodeXit rodent proofing seals are well suited for non-toxic exclusion.

We use the RodeXit products for the rodent proofing of swing doors and garage doors. The products are very fast and easy to install, and the installations look great.

It is our hope that RodeXit will develop similar great products that we can use for other wildlife larger than mice and rats.