

Stainless-steel • Can't be eaten • Can't be beaten

Testimonial from Josh Bloom

VP at Standard Pest Management (www.standardpest.com)
President NYPMA - New York Pest Management Association

“The door sweep is durable and cost effective“

Standard Pest Management was established in 1929 and is among the country's oldest pest management firms. It is a family-owned firm that is currently run by the third and fourth generations. We are based in Long Island City and provide service to commercial and residential clients in the greater NYC area. Pride professionalism and technology have always been important to us and that's why we are pleased to be the first pest management firm in the world to adopt the use of the RodeXit products. Since we first received a free sample from the manufacturer, we have been enthusiastic about their door sweep. As part of our IPM services, we pest proof an increasing number of doors each week with RodeXit door sweeps becoming a product of choice in the applications for which it is suited. I along with our key exclusion techs like the RodeXit door sweeps as our general-purpose strips for a number of reasons:

- They do the job and are both rat and mouse resistant.
- Durability; we monitor our installations regularly and even after eight months of use, have not experienced issues with any of the RodeXit installations.
- They are exceptionally easy and quick to install with the screw hole markings making it is easy to align the door sweeps flush to the door and floor.
- Ease of transport and inventory: As one can imagine, an urban service vehicle is stocked with quite a bit of tools and materials. So having 27 yards of door sweep available in a single compact coil that doesn't take up much space is a real task and time saver. Even some of our walking routes are able to perform the exclusion because strips can be cut and rolled up in a backpack.

- In addition, they are well suited for add-on sales which increases both profitability and professional service.
 - They are both cost effective and easy to keep on hand due to their unique travel ability.
- These are among the reasons we choose RodeXit.